PASSENGER SERVICE IN FORCE

A restraining order secured from Chief Justice Scott Wilson of the Supreme Court forbidding the Canadian National Railway from discontinuing passenger trains on Norway Branch, has extended passenger and express service at least for this week. The American Railway Express has suspended the discontinuing order, pending the result of the hearing on Friday. This week the village is moving about as usual except for activities in anticipation of the important session.

The bill in equity sets forth the facts that the Norway Branch Railroad, organized in 1870, was a part of the route to the Grand Trunk Railway Co. for nine years at a rental of one dollar per year, the railroad to furnish passenger and freight service between Norway and South Paris during the term of the lease.

BOWLING

Knights 1370; Masonic Club 1321. Forty-nine pins up was the distance separating the Knights of Pythias and Masonic Club, Tuesday evening. Both teams completed their bowls in the series, leaving the Masons to take the victory in their final on Thursday evening.

The game was erratic in spots and so placed on a see-saw neither team was sure of victory until the last few bowls. In the first string the Knights put up an even run and landed 23 up. The tide turned during the second stanza with the Masonic Club knocking everything off the pins. This sport overcame the loss and sent them into the lead with 10 pins over all.

The third string was a display of fireworks for the Knights. The second mark was 49 and the highest bowler registered only 10 pins above that level. This spasm wiped out the Masonic Club's margin and sent the Pythians wreckers over the top.

Stewart W. Goodwin presided and read communications from Grand Trunk officials and from the general manager of the Express Company. There was little in the communications to show any voluntary change of heart. The question was discussed from several angles but no action taken aside from emphasizing the need of a large attendance at Portland, Friday, at 1 p. m., daylight saving time, when counsels for all parties will present the facts, in an attempt to secure a temporary injunction. President Goodwin appointed W. W. Hills, L. M. Longley and L. Fred Pike on a committee to pick up a large party for the hearing. Donald B. Partridge was delegated to confer with the Club regarding arrangements might be made before land for a large attendance.

The express business was also discussed at length and the chairman appointed a committee to secure facts from the books at the local office, to be presented at the hearing. Those appointed were Thomas Huston and Fred E. Smith. It was brought out that a proposition by the express company is to open rooms with an agent at the station where the farmers and others may transact business and not be forced to go to South Paris. Express would be collected and delivered from using the station for a repository. A telephone operator has also been promised with one man handling both jobs. No action was taken in this matter pending future development.

It is evident a large number will attend the meeting Friday and be prepared to offer testimony if necessary. Col. A. J. Stearns and Col. J. W. Stearns, who have been postponed, probably for 1 week.

Obituary

Mrs. Annie M. Bennett
After a short illness with bronchial pneumonia, Mrs. Annie M. Bennett, widow of Albert T. Bennett, passed away at her home, May 2, at half past four in the morning.

She was born in Lovell, May 28, 1857, the daughter of Dexter and Mary Jordan Moore. Her early education was acquired in Lovell and the family moved to Norway when she was quite young. She has lived in town ever since.

For a number of years she was employed as a cook maker, afterward she entered the shoe factory of B. P. Spinney & Co. and the past few years was a valued employee at the Norway Shoe Co.

She was married on June 14, 1874 to Albert T. Bennett, who afterward conducted a meat and grocery business for many years. Mr. Bennett died in January 1921, and the past two years her son, Harold R. Bennett, and family have made their home with her and provided every comfort.

The deceased was a Methodist and a member of Harry Rust Corps. She was a pleasant woman to meet, and a loving mother and good, faithful wife, always willing to help anyone at any time.

Mrs. Bennett leaves two sons, Guy G. Bennett, Superintendent of the Cascade Natural Ice Co., Maryland, and Harold R. Bennett, milk dealer of this town. Four grandchildren survive, Mrs. Cecil Nichols Norway, Harold L. Bennett, Mrs. Mabel Davis, John A. and Leroy T. Bennett, Norway.

Services were held at Spillers Funeral Home, Wednesday at 2 P. M., Rev. Chester G. Miller officiating. Burial at Riverside Cemetery, South Paris.

Mrs. Albert P. Bassett
Mrs. Emma E. Bassett, wife of Albert P. Bassett, passed away suddenly, Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock. She had been about the house as usual during the day and a number of times that forenoon told Mr. Bassett how much better she felt. For several days previous she felt a little indisposed, but the condition caused no alarm.

Mrs. Bassett was born at Danvers, Mass., May 15, 1859, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall R. York of that town. She attended the Academy there and when about twenty years of age she went to Lewiston for employment as a dressmaker.

While in Lewiston she married Albert P. Bassett, a well known harness maker and they lived there some twelve years. For two years ago they moved to Norway from Lovell and settled in the lower part of the village. Four years later they started housekeeping in a new house on Main Street, where they have since lived.

Mrs. Bassett was known many years for the excellent cooking served at the Bassett restaurant and for her home life. She provided the boarders who had rooms in the house. The Bassetts retired from the business some years ago and when Mrs. Bassett occupied a garage and an assistant. Some years ago she assisted in the management of Central Park located between Norway and South Paris. She was well known to the patrons of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Bassett quietly observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary recently. She was a Congregationalist and an active member of the church. She was well known to the patrons of that place.

She leaves beside her husband two brothers, Ruel T. York of Danvers, Mass., and John York of Rockland, beside several nephews and nieces.

A private funeral was held at the home on Wednesday morning and the body taken to Danvers for public services on Thursday.

Interment will be in the family lot.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY POPPY PROGRAM

The little red poppy, so full of meaning, representing the sacrificial blood of the boys who fell, has unfortunately been the cause of much strife and misunderstanding. It was to protect this flower from strife and the inroads of commercialism that the American Legion Auxiliary worked out a National Poppy Program at the National Convention held in St. Paul in September, 1924.

This program was adopted by the Convention and eliminates the commercial poppy from the sales supply of the Auxiliary, and only poppies made by the needy and disabled service men and women and by the Unit members are to be sold by the Auxiliary this year, except in the Departments where the American Legion has charge of the poppy sales. The Auxiliary program interferes in no way with the Legion programs.

To plan a program and to put it into practice are two different undertakings, but the American Legion Auxiliary does not know failure, and thus it is that the valiant Auxiliary workers throughout the country have brought the poppy program to a successful conclusion. It is something that the world of reality.

Poppies have been made by the disabled service men in the hospitals of Arkansas, California, Idaho, Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma, Oregon and Virginia for local needs under the guidance of the American Legion Auxiliary; and Kansas, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The poppies made for all the states not carrying on this industry.

The greatest burden has been carried by the Minnesota Auxiliary Department, which has financed the making of a million poppies; Kansas has had a half million poppies made in the hospitals, and Wisconsin, as an initial program has had 400,000. This extensive production has been paid the needy and disabled service men before the poppy is put on sale. In Minnesota the poppies were not only made in hospitals, but a Poppy Headquarters was maintained downtown where twenty-five service men in need of financial relief gathered daily throughout the winter and spring months to make the poppies. The men are paid one cent for making the poppy and limited to 400 a day. This means that a man can earn $4.00 a day during poppy-making season. To many this was a living for the family to all it was a blessing. In most of the states the men are paid 4c extra for attaching the official American Legion and Auxiliary label.

The sick men in hospitals are paid the same but cannot make as many poppies. Think, however, what it means to the men to have this opportunity to earn something—if only a few dollars a month—and to take their places among the wage earning citizens. To the men who are compensated the program has meant only compensation for the poppy they have made. The men who have no compensation have gained a great deal from the mental diversion as well as comfort in the thought that they were able to make something for their country. The men who have no compensation have gained a great deal from the mental diversion as well as comfort in the thought that they were able to make something for their country.

Picture the mental strain of the non-compensated men in the hospitals as he sits in his room and thinks of the boys who have no income, and then open to him this door of opportunity whereby he can earn through the poppy program from $60.00 to $75.00 a month to send home to his family. Can you wonder that there

The vaulted dome with crevice and rafter that used to shelter them was gone, night was drawing on apace and they were shelterless.

SAVED FRIEND FROM HOSPITAL

So Mrs. Heckman Decided To Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Note Results—

Council Bluffs, Iowa—"I had pains in my back and sides and headaches, so that I could not do my work. Once in a while I would be sick a week. A friend told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had kept her out of the hospital, so I thought I would try it, as I had tried a number of other medicines. Now I feel like a different person and am telling my friends about the Vegetable Compound helping me, hoping they will let it help them, too."—Mrs. ETHEL HECKMAN, Box 21, R.F.D. No. 1, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The worst pain I had was in my right side and back with swelling in my side so that I was unable to walk at one time. I was ordered to go to the hospital but here I am, still without an operation. I saw your advertisement and have taken the Vegetable Compound with splendid results. I recommend it freely and will answer any letters from women asking about my case."—Mrs. J. Owing to the illness of Rev. N. R. Pearson, Mrs. Pearson occupied the pulpit, Sunday morning, subject of her address was "Ye are the light of the World."

Universalist

Rev. C. G. Miller will preach next Sunday at 9.30 A. M. from the text, "Behold, Thy Mother!" John 19:27.

There was a large congregation last Sunday, which shows that the early morning service was met with approval by the people.

Sunday School met at 10.30. The opening services were conducted by Marion Downing, it being Anti-Tobacco Sunday with appropriate program for the day.

With this no special fault can be found in view of the perspective. But is the perspective correct? Reform and punishment cannot go together. Resentment for the latter does not remove the former. Revenge is a deeper emotion than reform. The ex-convict is an outlaw and he knows it. Society pretends that he has paid his price, but does not accept the settlement, and he remains proscribed.

In this anomalous situation, what shall be done? It would appear logically that society should be reformed. The present prison system does not do it. Indeed, it aggravates the peril. What, then, shall be done to amend conditions so obviously unsatisfactory?

The answer is that the crime should be considered inhuman and a certain stage and be dealt with accordingly. To begin with, the intricacies of the law should be exchanged for simplicity. In this line I would replace the jumble of the code with one constructed upon the following lines for the protection of lives, persons and property:

1—Murder. Abolish capital punishment and substitute imprisonment for life.

2—Manslaughter. Term of 20 years in prison where only this type of convict shall serve his time.

3—Burglary or highway robbery when accompanied by violence. Life sentences; indeterminate sentences for 5 to 20 years.

4—Larceny and forgery. Indeterminate sentences of not less than five or more than 20 years.

5—Assault. Indeterminate sentences of from five to 20 years.

But this is not all. Men who pass the age of 30 and commit any offenses below capital, should be reformed for life.

Any second offender should share the same fate. Society should say: We will guard ourselves. The individual can save himself from prison by refraining from criminal acts. Starting for the penitentiary is a voluntary act on the part of the traveler. He takes himself to duress and should know that when the door slams behind him it will never open again. This may not end crime, but it will curtail the number of criminals, both of large and potential.

In putting this code into practice I should reform the prisons. I should make them non-punitive. The cells should not be 6x3x5 ft. They should have at least the area of a decent hotel bedroom, with a single occupant. He should be given books and newspapers, have all the liberty he likes to write and receive letters.

Visiting friends should be permitted to visit him. He should be allowed to work on industries that will interest and content him, with some compensation that should go to his family beyond that needed to reimburse the State for lodging and guarding him. Beyond this society will have charged him off never more to be in fear of him. Some will say the criminal will be better off than honest folks.

What of it? They will have a better chance, and he is through!—Brooklyn Eagle.

IMPROVED SPEECH

A new book on the subject of stuttering and stammering has been added to the collection of information on the shelves of the Norway Public Library. The new work is entitled "Stammering, Its Cause and Cure." It was written by Benjamin Nathaniel Bogue, a recognized authority on the subject of stammering and author of several volumes dealing with imperfections of speech. Until he was twenty years of age, Mr. Bogue was himself afflicted with stammering. He relates in his latest book some of the experiences of his early life when inability to talk without stammering handicapped his efforts to gain a foothold in the world of business.

ALBANY

Hunt's Corner and Vicinity
At eleven o'clock Sunday at the Albany Congregational church there was held a service for the reception of new members which was followed by the Holy Communion Service. Mrs. H. E. Ward, well furnished special music and Mrs. Ives preached on the "Love of the Cross." She gave an account of Jesus' life, of his desire to heal the sick, to cast out sin, to exalt little children as the gateway to the Kingdom of Heaven. "So Jesus came forth to reveal His will and His love for mankind, but evil men would have none of Him and crucified Him between two thieves. But such love as Jesus showed on the Cross! He prayed for the men who had crucified Him. He knew how miserable their lives were, so bitter and full of hatred. He thought of them and prayed that God might forgive them and cleanse them from their sins. He tenderly asked John, the Beloved Disciple, to care for his mother, and so taught His disciples for all ages to protect and cherish their mothers. He promised life to the penitent thief on the Cross. This promise must be a shock to those people in Maine who consider all prisoners in Thomaston worthy of severe punishment. To the penitent prisoner today, through us, may believe, would offer His redeeming love and at last paradise with him. Hard hearts, however, cannot glimpse such goodness. They are too absorbed with their own selfish selves to want a sinner to be saved or to work to save one. Jesus conquered suffering by forgiveness. He conquered death by love. The light of His resurrection is the hope and comfort of millions of his disciples today. The new members of the church are Gard Philip Barker, Philip Arthur Becker, Mrs. Mabel Nellis Becker and Arthur Eugene Churchill. The Holy Communion service then followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Maitland Bird had as guests, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Becker and Miss Helen Jamieson. Miss Lillian Jones of Portland is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Abel Andrews. Philip Becker is at home for a week's vacation from Portland where he is attending school. Mrs. Ives will hold a service at that time, also bring entertainment from Portland.

Corporation Meeting

The Fryeburg Village Corporation meeting will be held at the Fire House, Saturday evening. The warrant is posted and it is expected that it will be an unusually interesting meeting, the main issue being whether or not the corporation shall purchase additional fire fighting apparatus, and if so, what shall be obtained. The voters are also asked to take action to install three new street lights on Bridge Street, on the street leading to the John Burke place, so called, and on Post Lane. Another matter which will receive its annual airing is also as to what shall be done about the town dump, which has as a large section of ground between the village and Lovell's Pond. One article in the affirmative that the present dumping place be another article and another calls for a sum of money to clean up the present dump. In article 24 of the warrant the voters are asked to appropriate a sum of money to help defray the expenses of repairs to the house of the Congregational church. One article has to do with construction of sidewalks in the village.

Mrs. Cook was taken ill several weeks before her departure, her condition becoming so alarming that her son, Sturgis Cook of Chicago, and a step-daughter were summoned. It was finally decided that the change of scene might prove beneficial, and the patient seemed to rally after her trip, but her condition was so precarious that she passed away after a rapid decline. Mrs. Cook made many friends during her stay in town and the relatives have the sympathy of a large circle of friends. The deceased was especially interested in the work of the church and was an interested member of the Fryeburg Woman's Literary Club.

FRYEBURG ACADEMY GYMNASIUM

Fine New Building Will Be Dedicated at Graduation Time in June
The new gymnasium building at Fryeburg Academy will be dedicated at some hour especially set apart for that purpose during graduation week in June. The building is the result of a vote of construction by the trustees of the institution last August. Work was commenced on the site in September and the first shovelful of concrete was put into the forms last October with appropriate ceremony.

The building is of wood, 30x40 feet area, on the concrete foundation, the inside being finished into the roof, giving a clear height of 22 feet. The gymnasium floor is unbroken by stairs or passages, entrance to the locker rooms in the basement being by stairs in the porch.

Work was continued through the winter, and, though not complete in all details, the building has been in use several months. (The first use was for training the baseball teams.)

The cost has been approximately $12,000. Elroy O. LaCase, Principal of the Academy, has been very active and efficient in securing financial support among the alumni and friends of the Academy, and it is due to their generosity that so admirable a building has been made possible.

The cut and brief description of the new gymnasium are from the School and College Department of the Boston Evening Transcript. That paper also gives an account of the annual reunion of the Alumni Association of Fryeburg Academy, held at Hotel Kenmore on the night of May 1. Hon. W. W. Towle, president of the board of trustees of the Academy, presided at the table. Other trustees were Hon. A. P. Perry of Somerville, and Colonel John S. Barrows of Boston.

Memorial tributes were presented for the late Walter A. Robinson of Arlington, for a number of years president of the Association, and for Greenville Austin, a member of the Association, both of whom have died since the last reunion.

Remarks reminiscent of connections with the Academy, and expressing hopes and plans for the future were made by the trustees present, by George Strodt, Dr. Hayward, Walter Powers, Dr. Chandler, H. James, J. W. Smart, W. Billings and the Misses Anna Barrows and Hatfield Pike.

Principal LaCase also spoke and a number of pupils of the Academy assisted in presenting the entertainment. The committee for the event comprised John W. Smart, Mrs. M. O. Billings, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. C. M. Wynne and Miss Mary Barrows, secretary.

NORTH NORWAY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swan and two children from the village spent Sunday with Mrs. Swan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Morse.

Callers at E. A. Cox's, Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cox of Auburn, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings of Hebron and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swan from Lakeside.

Mrs. Mary Cleveland from the village is caring for Mrs. E. A. Cox.

The pie supper and social at the Swift's Corner school, Saturday evening, was largely attended, people coming from as far away as Hebron and several parties from the village. A fine time is reported. The proceeds amounted to $18.80.

Howard Adams carried his uncle, Dr. I. P. Symonds, to North Brighton, April 28, to attend a sick horse.

A wedding which occurred recently and which will be of interest to Norway people, took place in Middleton, Mass., April 17, when Miss Minnie Beyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Beyer, became the bride of Charles W. Hobbs of 9 Lyndale St., Lynn, Mass. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Grimes, pastor of the Baptist church of Danvers.

The Beyer residence was beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers. Attending the bride was Miss Rena Jeffers and Rodney Osgood served as best man. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin with a veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and sweet peas. Her attendant wore pale green tulle and gold lace and carried pink roses. The wedding march and the musical program were presented by Miss Mildred Eastman. There was a large gathering of guests attending the reception. The guest book and gift room were in charge of Miss Helen Webster.

The bride was supervisor of the outpatient department of the Lynn Hospital.

Mr. Hobbs is the son of Adna Hobbs and Minnie Merrill Hobbs formerly of Norway and Waterville. He is now in business at 17-19 Lyndale St., Lynn, and is a member of Mount Carmel Lodge of Masons.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs had previously planned a wedding trip to Norway to visit Mr. Hobbs' aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cox, but had told their friends whom they suspected of playing pranks on them, that they might do what they would with them, but be sure not to "disable their auto for they must have it to meet the 9.30 P. M. train to New York, where they intended going on their wedding trip. After the reception by using a little strategy the bride and groom, pursuers and escaped through an alley way, going directly to Lynn where they spent the night unmolested in their own furnished apartment at 9 Lyndale Street.

Next morning they left for Norway by auto. The snow storm which came the next day after their arrival seriously hampered their plans but the novelty of traveling, riding and snowing through fifteen inches of snow made up for the loss of other anticipated pleasures. The only thing which happened to mar their trip was a hold-up for speeding at York Beach. A corp arrested them near the middle of the beach, but on finding they were newly weds he let them pass with the advice to use a little less juice.
